I would this week commend to your attention the group of "uncensored" war pictures contained in the Sunday last issue of William Hearst's San Francisco Examiner. I have seen a collection of World war pictures that portrayed even more completely and vividly than these the foulness of war—but the former will serve well enough to illustrate my comment.

From time to time this column has decried war in all its forms, and for any reason whatever except, perhaps, actual invasion of this country. The pictures will tell you why. They will also explain the attitude of an intelligent young man who, when asked if he would resist invasion of the United States by Germany, replied: "Well, I don't know; I'd rather be a live German than a dead American." And there's something to that, too. Personally, I believe I would fight in that circumstance—but not with any great pleasure or desire to be a hero.

And why should I, or anyone else, feel differently about war? You can't say? I thought not. War—the result of greed, petty intrigue, the practice of enlarging "insults to the flag" until they assume the proportions of national calamity, only to be wiped out with the blood of countless youths. Bah! Inexcusable, useless, and avoidable, the whole dirty business.

It's all very well for statesmen and the high military to be war-minded and intensely patriotic—not their entrails will be splattered over the field of battle. Nor, by the same token, ever again will the present generation—as long as it lasts—find it so easy to cheer the marchers as their men go off to war. Why? Well, look at the pictures.

But what about the boys who are coming up? Are they being imbued with the horror and futility of war along with their general education? I'm afraid not. And that is very sad, for they're the ones who are destined to become cannon fodder in the next "world" war. Let our educators take a group of pictures such as appeared in the Examiner, and around them build a course designed to make the youth of the land throw away their pot-metal soldiers, cocked paper hats, wooden swords and guns. With youth against it, war would be a bothersome dish to force between the teeth of the nation.

One of our best assurances of peace at the present time is President Roosevelt. Our chief executive is himself against war, and the manner in which he refuses to know to "Wall Street" is very encouraging indeed. The internationally infamous institution mentioned in the foregoing line is itself capable of fostering another tremendous and bloody upheaval, and for that reason, if no other, should be hard held with a spade bit.

If preparedness is our answer to a pugnacious world, I'm for that, too. We could easily be the best "prepared" nation in the world, with such a staggering defensive program that no possible combine would be foolish enough to seek war on this continent.

A court of honor will be held this Sunday evening at 7:45 in the Congregational church. The speaker will be "Clipper" Smith, coach of the Santa Clara university football team. Mr. Smith has a way with boys, and the Rev. J. H. Bennett urges all parents and friends to attend. The Pacific Junior concert orchestra will give special music. Merit badges and other advancement awards will be presented.

Richmond-Chase
Defeats Campbell In Hot Game Sunday

By Hal DeFraga

The fast Richmond-Chase ball club gained a tie in the Intercity league when they won from Campbell here Sunday by a 2-1 score. The tally justly indicates the nature of the game. It was a pitchers' battle between Jung and Starsi. The visiting pitcher hurled superb ball and Campbell collected only four safe hits, one of which was a home run by Jung in the ninth inning. Richmond-Chase was able to secure eight hits off Jung. One of these was a homer by Marconi in the fourth inning. The canners scored their other run when Spatafore, came in from third after Starsi flew out to Atkinson in center field.

Campbell's downfall was due to their inability to hit the offerings of the opposing pitcher. Time after time Campbell was able to get men on the bases but the next batter up could not come through with the needed base hits.

The field gave Jung perfect support in all cases except one, when Mitchell dropped a fly ball in right field. Twice with two men on the bases and no outs, the team came through with double plays. The throwing of Reed, hardest working catcher in the league, was perfect.

Next Sunday the same two teams play another game at Campbell. If Richmond-Chase wins they will have the flag, and if Campbell wins they will play a three-game series with Richmond-Chase for the league championship. Jung will probably go on the firing line again next Sunday, although Clark may be given the call. It is hoped that Hal Wood will be in the line-up again next Sunday. His hitting and fielding will be of great help to the local team.

Fourteen children were present, and were entertained by participating in a fanciful flight to Hawaii and a treasure hunt on the islands.

Proposed Charter Brings Politics Into High Schools, Asserts San Jose Attorney, Who Believes Politicians Seek Control High School Trustees In Order To Name Personnel Commission.

That all high schools in Santa Clara county will become involved in county politics should the proposed county charter be adopted is inevitable according to those who have studied the charter.

The charter provides that the first personnel commission shall be appointed by a board consisting of one representative from each of the boards of high school trustees in the county. As the personnel commission will make up the lists from which the county executive-controller and all appointive county officers shall be chosen, every politician and office-seeker will certainly try to get control of the personnel commission by getting control of the boards of high school trustees.

Palo Alto will elect one member of its board of education in April and San Jose will appoint one member of its board in July. In each of the other seven high school districts one or two members of the board of trustees will be elected on the last Friday in March.

Plans are already being formulated by various political groups to try to get control of the several boards of trustees at the coming elections, should the proposed charter be adopted.

The several boards of trustees and the expiration dates of the terms of the several members thereof are as follows:

Campbell union high school: Jessie A. Shelley '36, O. B. Couk '35, Carl B. Field '34, J. E. Wiesendanger '34, J. A. Conner '36.

Fremont union high school: Leo H. Vishoot '35, H. G. Stelling '35, A. C. Butcher '34, C. C. Spalding '36, Arch Wilson '36.

Gilroy high school: Sydney S. Johnson '36, A. Baldwin '35, A. Lee Brown '34, James S. Byers '34, H. E. Robinson '36.

Live Oak union high school: C. D. Robertson '35, A. H. Hall '35, Preston R. Thomas '34, L. V. Saph '36, Burt Stevens '36.

Los Gatos union high school: George Shaner '36, Martha G. Williams '35, Robert L. Hogg '34, George Osmer '36, Irving Mabie '34.

Mt. View union high school: Thomas J. Straub '36, Chester Awalt '36, H. G. Childs '34, Claude Redwine '35, C. H. Sheldon '35.

Santa Clara high school: Carl Linderoth '34, F. L. Hart '35, W. R. Johnston '34, Adrian Wilcox '36, Clement Lang '36.

San Jose: C. S. Allen '35, David M. Burnett '34, George B. Campbell '37, Dr. William Van Dalsem '35, J. S. Williams '36.

Palo Alto: Avery Howe '38, Dr. H. L. Niebel '37, Edna W. Cathcart '36, J. Hugh Jackson '35, Pearl S. Shreve '34.

The voters of Willow Glen and 25 other school districts have no vote for high school trustees but they do have a vote on the adoption or rejection of the charter. They are interested in keeping politics out of the high schools and can do this by voting against the adoption of the charter.

Mrs. E. R. Kennedy
Elected Preident of Local Women's Club

At a meeting of the Women's Service club held last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ira Abbott, Alice avenue, Mrs. E. R. Kennedy was elected to the presidency of the organization for the year 1934. Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Kennedy include Mrs. Arthur Wellington, first vice president; Mrs. Guy E. Farley, second vice president; Miss Winnifred Grizzle, re-elected secretary, and Mrs. Robert E. Stubbe, treasurer.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. William N. Lloyd, retiring president, who turned the gavel over to her successor, who presided over the session. Committee chairmen gave reports of the work accomplished during the past year, and plans for current activities were discussed. Arrangements were under way at this meeting for the program to be presented by the club on the afternoon of Old Settlers' day, Feb. 22, and members presented Mrs. Lloyd with a gift in recognition of her services as president the past year.

The next meeting of the organization will be held Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 21, in the kindergarten room of the grammar school instead of at the home of Mrs. Freeman, as had previously been planned.

Mrs. Abbott was assisted in serving dainty refreshments at small tables by Mrs. C. T. Tanner, Mrs. R. W. Saveker and Miss Muriel Carson.

Enjoying the afternoon with Mrs. Abbott were: Mesdames Horace Person, E. R. Kennedy, William Lloyd, W. R. Morgan, Herold Morton, R. W. Saveker, G. E. Farley, Ray F. Fish, C. T. Tanner, N. O. Best, Arthur Wellington, Herbert Shadle, F. Morris, the Misses Muriel Carson, Rowena Farman, Winnifred Grizzle and Ruby Howes. Mrs. John Poviso and Mrs. George Swanson were guests of the club.

LOCAL BASKETEERS
TRIM FREMONT HI

Coach Ralph Noddin's high school basketball squads resisted invasion again Friday evening when both the unlimited and 130-pound teams emerged victorious from hotly-contested encounters with like quints from Fremont.

Both games were intensely exciting and well received by local fans, with a spot of weird refereeing to liven things up.

Hoover Unable to Speak Here; U. C.
President Invited

President H. M. Shadle of Campbell chamber of commerce learned definitely this week that the Hon. Herbert Hoover would be unable to speak here on the occasion of Old Settlers' day, Feb. 22. After this intelligence was received an invitation to speak was extended Robert Sproul, president of the University of California.

The Women's Service club, in charge of the afternoon program, reports securing the A Capello choir of San Jose for that affair.

Miss Adele Grandeman will present a group of grammar school children in an original play at the Kiwanis-sponsored evening entertainment.

THOMAS LUMB
RITES BEING HELD IN EAST

Death last Tuesday night claimed Thomas Lumb at his home on Sunnyside avenue. The deceased, who had been ill for a long time, was 81 years of age, and a native of Philadelphia. He came to Campbell in 1920 from Iowa, where he had been a railroad agent.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret Lumb, and four children: Helen C. and Thomas R. Lumb of Campbell, Calvin A. Lumb of New York, and Mrs. Hugh Tolman of Ohio. Funeral services and interment are being held in the east.

ANNUAL LUNCHEON
HELD BY PUNDITAS
IN COMMUNITY HALL

A delightful affair of this afternoon was the annual luncheon of Pundita circle, which was held in Community hall at 1 o'clock.

Marigolds, the club flower, featured largely in beautiful decorations which added to the charm of the big room. On a raised platform in the center of the hall was a tremendous bank of these flowers which formed the letter "P" for Pundita, and the 12 small tables at which luncheon was served were each decorated with a bouquet of these cheery flowers.

Mrs. Walter Stray was chairman on this occasion, being ably assisted by members of the club's charity committee, and those ladies who several weeks ago staged a very successful anniversary meeting.

"Handcraft and Weaving" was the topic of the afternoon, and various types of work, including weaving, were interestingly demonstrated by Mrs. D. H. Cramer. A display of hand-work by members rounded out the program.

The next meeting of the group will be held Feb. 7 at the home of Mrs. R. Y. Maxson. Mrs. Alegra Wood and Miss Anne Schulte will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Julius Bachman will be hostess Thursday afternoon to members of the Ada Rebeka Stitching club. Mrs. Myrtle Scott will be co-hostess.

A food sale will be held at Field's store Saturday, Jan. 20, by the ladies of Group No. 1 of the Congregational church guild.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

Three fundamental functions of the United States Department of Agriculture, each of major importance to California farmers, are threatened with drastic curtailment and impairment as a result of slashing reductions proposed in the new budget for the federal department.

The services most endangered are services which have paid for themselves a hundred fold—paying millions in dividends for thousands in overhead.

Hardest hit in the "penny-wise and pound-foolish" economy program are the agricultural experiment stations, which include the college of agriculture in California; the farm extension service, responsible for the important farm advisor system, and the biological survey, which has directed predatory animal and rodent control work.

Throughout the years, these services have played a valuable part in improving farm efficiency, increasing farm income and in protecting both crops and livestock. And today, with the nation bending every effort toward the rehabilitation of agriculture, they are more badly needed than ever before to assist in stabilizing the industry and speeding recovery.

Agriculture, one of the country's heaviest taxpayers, has consistently supported every move for sound and intelligent economy in the conduct of government; in fact, it has led the way in demands for retrenchment. But the farmer, at a time when the government is spending billions of dollars in stop-gap, emergency projects to revive industry, can hardly be expected to accept a program of blundering economy which would cripple services that are permanent in nature and benefits.

Federal support for the experiment stations, if the budget cuts are permitted to go unchanged, will be reduced to 75 per cent of normal, dropping from $4,361,000 to $3,290,000. The extension service, likewise, would be cut to 75 per cent of its former budget, with the recommended appropriation totaling approximately $3,000,000 as against $4,000,000 previously.

Doubtless, the slashes in the budget of the biological survey—a service of primary importance to California livestock men and farmers—would practically wipe out all effective work in controlling predatory animals and injurious rodents.

The budget for the control work, already cut from $530,000 to $383, during the current year by executive order, is reduced to $91,000 in the new set up.

The general appropriation of the biological survey is cut from $1,356,000 to $582,741, or 43 per cent of normal.

Taken as a whole, the sweeping reductions in budget recommendations for the three services will mean permanent impairment and disorganization of services which are vital in normal times, but far more vital during a period of readjustment and rehabilitation such as the present.

The farm advisor service, for instance, is carrying the heaviest load in its history, due to the fact that the federal government is depending on the farm advisors for the local information essential to the administration of its crop and acreage reduction programs, its debt adjustment programs and other phases of the recovery drive. The experiment stations, similarly, are rendering unusually valuable service in assisting farmers to re-

Miss Maude Marston Hostess At Shower for Mrs. Gayno Eddlemon

Many beautiful gifts were received by Mrs. Gayno Eddlemon at a shower tendered her Saturday evening by Miss Maude Marston at her home on Union avenue. An evening of conversation, topped off with delicious refreshments, occupied the party until 11 o'clock.

Enjoying the occasion with the hostess and the guest of honor were Mesdames James Burns, Earl Eddlemon, Richard Knappen, Warren Eddlemon, Fred Rost, George Gordon, Henrietta Jones, Maude Marston, the hostess' mother, all of Campbell; Mrs. James Hart, San Francisco; Mrs. Agnes Benefiel, San Jose, and the Misses Shirley Eddlemon, Rowena Farman, Lois Marston, Campbell, and Miss Georgia Eaton, Santa Clara; Miss Alice Glass and Miss Wilma Smith, San Francisco.

Importance of the work of the biological survey is best evidenced by the fact that from 10 to 30 per cent of the natural increase in sheep, hogs and poultry was lost prior to the time the survey started its war on predatory animals. Today this loss has been cut from 1 to 5 per cent—a saving of millions of dollars annually. Virtually the same results have been obtained by the survey in protecting farm crops from rodents, with present losses reduced to less than five per cent.

The federal appropriations have aided tremendously in the up-building and stabilizing of these services in the past; they have justified support of the services by the various states. And they have facilitated the coordination of activities, making it possible to cover a wide field of needed experimentation and control work without duplication.

Farm-minded congressmen, sincerely interested in agricultural recovery, will make a determined fight to modify the ill-timed and ill-conceived "economy" program which is embodied in the new budget of the federal department. And California farmers, whose interests are directly at stake, should lend their whole-hearted support to the representatives who are making their fight.

GRANGE HEARS STANFORD PROF. ON NEW CHARTER

At a meeting of Orchard City grange held last night in Odd Fellows hall Professor Cottrell of Stanford university spoke in favor of the proposed new charter for this county. The professor was instrumental in drawing up the document.

Routine business of the grange followed, a discussion of the possibility of building a grange hall featuring largely in the session. A favorable attitude towards the plan was manifest. The long-hoped for building will doubtless become a reality as soon as additional funds are available, according to leading grangers.

John Duncan, who is practicing teaching in Monterey and staying at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Carter of Salinas, visited the past week-end with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan.

Mrs. J. W. French of Pacific Grove is visiting in San Jose and with Mrs. Ethel Davis of Campbell.

THE STORY OF CALIFORNIA SCHOOLS

By ROY W. CLOUD
State Executive Secretary California Teachers Association

PIONEER YEARS

Just ten years passed from John Swett's principalship of historic Rincon school in 1853 until 1863 when Swett, in recognition of the powerful contributions he already had made to the cause of pioneer schooling, was elected state superintendent of public instruction. During that eventful decade California had forged ahead in population, with a consequent and proportionate increase in children.

Private schools were established in the larger cities and these sufficed in part to answer educational needs, but only of those whose parents could afford tuition fees.

The condition of the public schools remained exceedingly discouraging, in spite of the almost heroic labors of Swett, of John C. Pelton, founder of California's first public school, of John G. Marvin, Paul K. Hubbs and Andrew J. Moulder, the latter three preceding Swett as state superintendent.

Many of the counties had no schools at all. In his first annual report of 1852, Superintendent Marvin showed that Butte county, for instance, had 50 children but no school; Calaveras county, 100 children but no school; El Dorado county, 100 children but no school, and Monterey county had 500 children, only 80 of whom were in school.

Such was the general condition over the state. What schools existed were supported solely by tuition fees paid by the parents of the children in attendance.

In the legislature of 1852 Frank Soule, chairman of the senate committee on education, made an able report in favor of a more liberal state policy toward education. Although a select committee of the assembly reported against the proposed bill, the bill was passed providing for a state levy of five cents on each 100 dollars of assessed valuation, and making possible three-cent tax rates in the counties and a similar tax in incorporated towns.

During the five years which followed little progress in school legislation was made.

In his report to the legislature in 1856, Superintendent Moulder showed that the state's contribution to the public schools had been decreasing. His report read in part:

"I will not waste words on such an exhibit. If it (his report) is not convincing that the support from the state is altogether insufficient, and ought to be augmented, no appeal of mine could enforce it."

In his annual report of 1858, Superintendent Moulder gave that law-making body some plain words, concluding, after reciting facts of attendance and non-attendance, with the declaration:

"In other words, California has paid nearly three times as much for the support of an average of 400 criminals as for the culture of 30,000 children. To make the point more forcible, the figures show that we have expended $1,885 on every criminal and $9 on every child.

In his report for 1860, Superintendent Moulder speaks of the state's contribution to education as a "pittance almost beneath contempt."

District schools, their meagre support still drawn largely from fees paid by parents, were everywhere unsatisfactory.

Such in brief review, was the disheartening condition of public schooling when John Swett was elected state superintendent of public instruction in 1863.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB PUTS ON PROGRAM FOR LOCAL GROUP

Among the many splendid programs which the Country Woman's club has been privileged to enjoy, that presented Monday by members of the San Jose Music Study club was one of the best.

The topic listed for the day was "An After noon of Music" with Mrs. G. S. Robson and Mrs. J. E. Palmer in charge, the third member of the committee, Mrs. A. I. Cramer, having removed to Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Palmer stated that a number of members had expressed a wish to hear one of the Music Study club's programs and that the group of women present were going to give such a program. She then introduced Mrs. John Drew, Jr., Mrs. Albert Dutton, her own daughter, Mrs. Albert Rudolph, Mrs. Oliver Scott, and Mrs. George Penniman, all of San Jose.

Mrs. Rudolph announced their program as one of Oriental music, and first presented Miss Katherine Wood of Campbell, who played two very fine and appropriate piano numbers, "Turkish March" by Mozart and "Fire Music."

An interesting paper on the "History and Development of Oriental Music," in which she treated briefly ancient musical scales and instruments of the Chinese, Japanese, Hindus, Persians and Arabs, was read by Mrs. Rudolph. Mrs. Scott played the Chinese scale, an old hymn and a song, illustrating ancient music, and Mrs. Rudolph followed with "Two Panels from a Chinese Screen," arranged by Alice Barnett. Mrs. Scott was her accompanist, and Mrs. Penniman for the other selections.

A trio including the Mesdames Dutton, Scott and Drew sang "A Chinese Dance," and with Mrs. Rudolph, a short and rather snappy quartet, "Pat-a-Cake."

Japanese and Javanese airs were demonstrated on the piano by Mrs. Scott, who then sang two solos by Fay Foster, "A Nipponese Sword Song" and "The Red Heart."

Southern Oriental music was illustrated by "Arab Dance," Tchaikovsky-Bornschien, sung by the trio; a solo, "Desert Love Song," Sprouse, by Mrs. Rudolph, and a "Hindu Slumber Song," Harriet

HERBERT SHADLE IS CHAIRMAN OF DRUGIST COUNCIL

At a meeting of the Retail Drug Trade council in San Jose Monday, Herbert M. Shadle was elected permanent chairman of the organization. Other officers elected were J. O. Stuhlman, vice chairman; G. P. Aurich, secretary, and G. C. Wentz, treasurer.

The council, elected Jan. 12 by druggists of the eighth congressional district, represents Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, San Mateo and Monterey counties.

Officers and members of the council are seeking authority to investigate the NRA druggists' code and its applicability to local conditions.

Sunday mornnig at the Congregational church the Rev. J. H. Bennett will preach on "The Lost Splendor."

Ware, by the quartet.

The program was concluded with a group of modern numbers, a trio, "Woo Thou Sweet Music," by Edward Elgard; two quartets, "In the Heart of the Hills," Dorothy Lee, and "Will-O-the Wisp," Spross, and one verse of "America" by the assembly.

The committee presented each of the visiting artists with an attractive corsage and served them with punch at the conclusion of the reception following the program.

A number of guests had accepted the invitations issued by the club and joined in expressions of pleasure over the program.

Several large bouquets of torch lilies and Oregon grape were attractively placed about the room, contrasting effectively with a low bowl of winter iris, pink Cherokee roses, snowdrops and heather on the front table, and beside which tall tapers of apricot shade. Tapers of the same color were placed on the mantel amid redwood sprays.

At the business meeting announcement was made of the county federation meeting to be held Friday at the Moreland Good Will club house.

The program for the meeting of Feb. 5 has been changed, and Mrs. Ungerer, San Francisco district chairman of Cooperation with Disabled War Veterans will be present to speak on her work.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON GIVEN FRIENDS BY MRS. H. PERSON

Mrs. Horace Person was hostess yesterday at a delightful bridge luncheon at her home here. Pink sweet peas and pink roses decorated the room where cards followed the charmingly appointed repast.

Both contract and auction bridge were played, with Mrs. Carl Field taking honors in the former, and Mrs. C. E. Williams tallying high score in auction.

Others enjoying the afternoon with Mrs. Person included Mrs.

NOTHING DOES SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE AS YOUR TELEPHONE

A single telephone call may be worth more to you than your telephone costs in a lifetime

WHEN split-seconds count, who shall measure the telephone's value? When odor of smoke or crackle of flames occur,—when a doctor is needed—what serves so swiftly, dependably?

But your telephone's value goes far beyond emergencies. It reaches neighbors, friends in town, markets.

A telephone does much—costs little.

WHAT PRICE SHOULD YOU PAY?

Three tires—each a guaranteed Goodyear—three prices (if we illustrated Heavy Duty Goodyears there would be five prices!)—which is the best buy for you? » » » The answer depends on how hard and how far you will drive your car. Our experience is at your call to help you decide. But no matter what you pay you'll get the best buy at that price when you get a Goodyear. Giving the greatest value gives Goodyear the greatest sales of any make.

Healthful Salads for Mid-Winter

AT THIS season menus need, perhaps more than at any other of the year, the lightening influence of healthful, fresh, crisp salads. They are necessary for both nutrition and appetite appeal. Yet at this season, there is often not the wide selection of the fresh vegetables that are so abundantly available during the spring and summer months. Wise, indeed, is the homemaker who capitalizes on those that are to be had, and uses her ingenuity in serving them in so many guises that they continually seem new and interesting. Cabbage, one of the most healthful of vegetables, is fortunately obtainable in almost all markets and is a universal favorite—especially with men. Below are some excellent, everyday salads for mid-winter menus. Several feature this impartial vegetable—cabbage. Your family will enjoy everyone of them!

Molded Vegetable Salad

1 tablespoon gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons Pure Vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup diced celery
1 cup cooked peas
1 cup shredded cabbage
Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes and dissolve in boiling water. Add Vinegar, lemon juice, sugar, salt and vegetables and mix thoroughly. Turn into individual molds and chill. Remove from molds to salad plates. Serve with Mayonnaise. Thin slices of cooked meats may be arranged around the salads for a one-piece luncheon. Vegetable rings are very colorful and attractive for serving at a buffet supper, passed on a large plate or silver dish.

Carrot and Cabbage Slaw

2 cups shredded cabbage
2 cups shredded carrots
8 Stuffed Spanish Olives, sliced
1 small onion, finely diced
1/2 cup Mayonnaise Dressing
4 teaspoons Pure Malt Vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
Place all ingredients in a bowl and mix thoroughly. Serve on crisp beds of lettuce and top with Mayonnaise Dressing.

Dutch Potato Salad

4 slices of bacon
1 onion, chopped
1/4 cup Pure Cider Vinegar
2 tablespoons water
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
3 cups diced cooked potatoes
1 tablespoon minced parsley
Cut bacon fine and fry. Brown onion in fat and add vinegar, water, sugar, salt and pepper. Allow to boil, then add potatoes and parsley. Heat thoroughly and serve.

Julienne Salad

2 cups shredded cabbage
1 green pepper
1 cup cooked carrots, cut into strips
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

small, firm head of cabbage. Cut in halves or quarters and slice very thin. Put in ice water until crisp. Drain and dry in towel. Remove seeds and partitions from pepper and cut in fine shreds. Add pepper, cooked carrots, salt and pepper, and Mayonnaise or French Dressing to moisten. Serve on leaves of lettuce or romaine or on one of the outer cabbage leaves.

Brazilian Cabbage Salad

1 medium can Oven Baked Red Kidney Beans
2 cups coarsely shredded cabbage
3 tablespoons India Relish
3 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup
3 tablespoons Mayonnaise Dressing
1/2 teaspoon salt
Place beans in sieve and rinse sauce from them. Drain, chill and add remaining ingredients. Toss together lightly and chill. Serve on a bed of crisp lettuce and garnish with additional Mayonnaise Dressing. Accompanied by a bowl of soup and whole wheat bread, this salad forms a delightful luncheon.

SCOUT-PARENT ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED HERE

A meeting of Boy Scouts, parents, and other interested adults numbering 120 people and presided over by Dr. W. I. Merrill at the grammar school cafeteria last Wednesday night served to formulate an organization designed to further character-building work in the community through closer accord between scouts and parents.

The Campbell Scout-Parent association has as its permanent executive committee S. N. Hedegard, John Fortini, E. L. Farnham, Bart Guttormsen and John Brewer, who will meet Thursday for the purpose of completing the program of the new organization.

KIWANIS NOTES By Heck

Kiwanians were busy yesterday. J. E. Wiesendanger was elected to the board of directors to replace Dr. W. R. Morgan, who was recently elected secretary.

The club as sponsors of the local Boy Scout movement selected as scout committee Dr. W. I. Merrill, chairman; W. H. Stray, treasurer; Dr. W. R. Morgan, M. E. Purmort and John Brewer.

This being the nineteenth birthday of Kiwanis, Carl Field read the International note to the club.

Nic Hedegard as chairman presented Attorney L. D. Bohnett, who gave some interesting points against the proposed county charter. This instrument, he pointed out, removes local government farther from the people rather than giving them more direct power.

By removing the direct will of the people through the various appointive boards and commissions the responsibility is not centralized, giving opportunities to "pass the buck."

By the charter, Mr. Bohnett revealed, the executive-controller, who is the director of county expenditures, becomes his own auditor, checking his own accounts. This is a dangerous clause, he said.

The great plea to keep schools out of politics is overridden by the plan of selection of the personnel board, which will make high school districts the political battlegrounds for the coming election.

Next Tuesday Robert E. Wells, manager of San Jose Good Will industries, will speak on "Charity Work In San Jose," and tell of some of his war experiences. H. C. Smith will act as chairman.

Enroute from Seattle to their home at Tucson, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Moffit stopped over to visit the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell H. Grant, Sr., of Union. Other recent visitors at the Grant home were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Heaton of Paso Robles.
